To Sell 158 Buildings At Field

HONDO (Special) - Employing red tape slashing tactics to surplus real property in a revolutionary move to afford additional storage facilities to south Texas agriculturists. War Assets Administration will market 158 Hondo Army Air Field buildings by the "spot bid" here starting at v a.m.

Aug. 14.
The one-day, cash and carry type sale will be the first time the WAA real property office has offered buildings "over the counter" to the public in south Texas, and the second such operation in Texas, As each building is announced for sale over a public address system, bidders will turn in their of-fers on informal bid cards, and winning bids will be named as fast as the offers can be compared.
No priorities will be observed at the sale, and successful buyers will be enabled to start removal of their buildings immediately following the awards.

At the start of the sale, the buildings will be offered singly, Cowart said. In may cases, ne pointed out, they can be removed from the site intact or section by section for reassemblage. The sale is part of a program for clearing the camp grounds for return of the field to private users.

The public is invited to make inspection of all sale property daily from Aug. 1 through Aug. 13. Complete instructions for bidding and a list by number of the buildings in the offering will be available at the field during this period. Successful bidders or their authorized representatives are required to be present to complete arrangement for payment of pur-

Hondo Village Will Close--But Not This Week or Next Says Manager Adolphus

With 150 vacancies and more materializing every week, Hondo was shocked this week with the revival of the months old rumor that the Village was about to

So we went to J. C. Adolphus, manager of the village who knows more about it than anyone else. We got from him what is, at this time, the only truly authoritative

Broomcorn And Milo Crops Start Moving

Shipments of Medina County's two big money crops from Hondo were off to a rousing start this week, 140 cars of milo maize going out by Thursday morning and seven cars of the county's record broomcorn crop, according to S. P. Station Agent J. E. Johnson.

Milo was bringing 3.35 on the farm and 3.45 delivered to the station according to reports early Thursday morning, and broomcorn was bringing from $350 to $395 depending on quality. According to Johnson's estimates, milo shipments will total well over 200 cars before the shipping is finished, and broomcorn will probably run over 65 cars.

word on its closing.
"I don't know," said Mr. Adolphus.

Adolphus advises Hondoans whose permanent homes or jobs are here to stay on the lookout for other quarters. The Village is strictly a temporary affair, as anyone can prove by leaning too hard against a wall. The heavy winds of a couple of months ago ripped the roofing from two buildings, and a 40-mile wind would almost certainly take off many more now.

Adolphus did, however, have some opinions which are certainly more valuable than the rumors. "The village will close," he said. "There's no use kidding ourselves about that, as many people are doing. But I don't think it will close this year."

Closing is governed entirely by the rate of vacating, Adolphus pointed out. They won't all move out at once, but it is emptying fast enough to put the future in doubt. Adolphus himself expects it to last for a number of months yet. One thing is certain. Sixty day notices will be passed out before it does close.

Hondo families living in the Village now number between 20

Jungman Finds ML-310A-AMT-1

Medina County readers will be interested in the discovery last week, by Fred Jungman on his place near Rio We ina, a genuine, original ML-310A-AMT-1.

Jungman's ML-310A-AMT-1 is built exaxctiv like other ML-310A-AMT-1's so there is no reed for describing it at this

He is undecided as to what to do with it since it is known that genuine ML-310A-AMT-1's cutlive their usefulness when the balloon breaks and they fall to the ground. But he is thinking of hiring a neighbor hid to blow him a super balloon out of bubble gum and sending the thing aioft to me sure stratospheric temperature, since that's what the army Signal Corps does with the things.

150 Here For Church Of Christ Reunion

Reunion of the Hondo congregation of the Church of Christ was pronounced a great success last Sunday as over 150 guests attended from San Antonio, Bandera, Medina, Sabinal, Uvalde, various Medina County communities and from the states of Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, North Dakota, Michigan and the Hawaiian Islands.

The reunion, scheduled every five years, is for those person who worshiped here at the Hondo church during the war, plus any visitors who care to attend.

Brother Carl B. Robinson spoke for the morning services which were followed by a barbecue at Jack Sharp's, New Fountain. Mr. R. L. Baker entertained the crowd wth favoies and recordings of Honolulu scenes and music in the afternoon and after Mr. J. E. Mc-Carley's evening services.

Church Homecoming Ties In With 100th Anniversary of Town

By Mrs. Amos Finger
THE ANNUAL HOME-COMING CELEBRATION AT D'HANIS ON SUNDAY, AUGUST 3, WILL HAVE A SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE THIS YEAR IN THAT IT WILL BE THE OCCASION FOR OBSERVING THE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE TOWN, WHERE IT HAS BEEN CUSTOMARY FOR GENERATIONS

TOWN, WHERE IT HAS BEEN CUSTOMARY FOR GENERATIONS TO HONOR IN SOME MANNER ITS PATRON SAINT — SAINT DOMINIC — ON OR NEAR HIS FEAST-DAY, AUGUST 4.

THE CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE WILL BEGIN WITH HIGH MASS AT 10 A.M. IN HOLY CROSS CHURCH. THIS WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A BARBECUE LUNCHEON IN THE PARISH HALL, FOR WHICH ELABORATE PREPARATIONS HAVE BEEN MADE TO ACCOMMODATE A RECORD CROWD. THE PROGRAM INCLUDES SPEAKING, INCLUDING AN ADDRESS BY COUNTY JUDGE ARTHUR ROTHE, AND OTHER ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES ON THE GROUNDS THE GROUNDS.

One hundred years ago the original town of D'Hanis, now known as Old D'Hanis, was established about two miles east of the present center. It was one of four towns colonized by Henri Castro, the intrepid Jewish-French empre-sario who brought from Europe the first white families of Medina County. During the year 1846 a surveying party was sent out from Castroville to lay out the town, and the spring of 1847 saw the last of the original families settling in their new home.

According to Castro's contract with the Republic of Texas, each family he brought to the country was to be granted 640 acres of land, and each single man 320 acres. Colonists were not to receive full title until they had erected a good and comfortable dwelling upon their land and had cultivated at least 15 acres of it.

This last clause must account for the fact that D'Hanis was six years old before deeds were given for property owned by some of its citizens. Judge H. E. Haass of Hondo, outstanding historian of Medina County, has revealed a list of names of those who were granted deeds in 1853: Batot, Deckert, Enderle, Esser, Finger, Garteiser, Grossenbacher, Hagen-mueller, Koch, Ludwig, Marrell, Meyer, Nehr, Nester, Ney, Rieber, Rittermann, Rudinger, Schreiber, Schuhmacher, Weber, Weynand, Wipti, Zerr, and Zuercher.

French Houses But as time went on, they built of stone those French provincial houses patterned after the ones they had left in their homeland. which were so quaint and picturesque that the few left standing are an attraction to tourists even to-

Prominent among the ruins at Old D'Hanis are the stone walls of St. Dominic's Church, now slowly going to decay beside the first little cemetery where rest so many of the settlers of the town. The east extremity of this church was the first place of worsnip of a permanent nature to be built in the village. Limestone with timber and roofing of cypress, brought by ox-wagon over long distances, were used in the little church, which was erected some time after rather Dominic Mesens, O. M. C., first came to D'Hamis after 1852. About 1869 the building was greatly enlarged, this time in Gotnic style, Monument On Site On the abandoned church premises today stands a monument, one of those erected by the State of Texas during its Centennial year, 1936. The marker speaks for itself: "Town of D'Hanis, now known as Old D'Hanis — Established in 1847 by 29 families under the leadership of Theodore Gentilz, representing Henri Castro (1781-1861), distinguished pioneer and colonizer of Texas who introduced the early settlers of Medina County — Named in hon-or of Guillaume (William) D'Hanis, manager of the Colonization Society - When the Southern Pacific railroad missed the town, its citizens moved to the present

The twenty-nine families mostly Alsatians and perhaps all Catholics — who settled on the banks of the running stream known as Parkers Creek, were a truly isolated group. Twenty-five miles to the east, to be sure, was Castroville, a struggling village of some three years' growth, but to the west was only a wilderness inhabited by wild animals and ma-rauding Indians, the nearest town being Eagle Pass, a hundred miles away on the Rio Grande. The story of those early years of the settlement can match any tale of the worst frontier hardships; poverty, illness, and starvation combined with crop failures, drouths, and Indian raids were enough to drive the most valiant pioneer to despair. Many left the settlement and those who remained survived only because of undaunted courage and their never-failing faith in God.

Fort Lincoln Starts

During its third year there finnally came a change for the town. In 1849 the United States Government established a military post about two miles north of D'Hanis with two companies of the U. S Infantry. This was at one end of a chain of army posts designed to guard the frontier against Indians. Fort Lincoln became at once a means of prosperity as well as of security to the settlers who could now make a little money by hauling supplies for the soldiers and selling to them at a good price what produce they could spare. It is a matter of record that whereas on their arrival at the settlement the richest of the colonists was not worth $20, yet after ten years of frugal living and hard work, the average wealth of each had increased to at least

The town was a stopping place for the first stage line between San Antonio and the Mexican border to the west, and another stage later took care of passengers and mail bound for Utopia via Fort Lincoln to the north. In 1881 the Southern Pacific Railroad was built through this section, and a site for the railway station was chosen about two miles west of the original settlement.

Many of the citizens now rebuilt their business places and homes near the station; and as See ANNIVERSARY, page four)

DEVINE - Officers elected for 1948 by the Killough-Rogers Post, No. 98, American Legion are all men who served in World War II with the exception of Chaplain G. M. Turner, who was re-elected. New officers are Post Commander, S. R. Malone; Vice Commander, Glen Robertson; second Vice Com-mander, Arthur Ehlingger; third Vice Commander, Paul Schott; Adjutant, Frank Bain; Finance Officer, Howard Wallace; Service Officer, Bill Peacock; Historian, R. K. Williams; and Sgt. at Arms,

Two truck loads of cattle paid in minor cuts and bruises for an unexpected feeding Tuesday of this week when the driver of the first truck dozed at the wheel, hit a butane gas truck knocking off a wheel which rolled into the second cattle truck, all three ending in the ditches.

Cattle trucks, owned by O. J. "Pickle" Collins of Lytle, were heading West and were about four miles out of Hondo when the accident occurred. The gas truck driver noticed the cattle truck crowding over but could not get far enough off the road to avoid the collision. An estimated $3,000 worth of damage was done on the empty gas truck.

When the trucks hit the ditches the cattle decided it was no place for them, promptly made a new doorway in the sides of both cattle trucks and got out for chow.

Legion Dance Success; Another Slated Aug. 23

Hondo's veterans promised "the dance of the season" last Saturday night for the first public affair in their new home, and that is just what it turned out to be as over a thousand persons thronged the huge building.

Dancers, in one of the huge wings of the building, were amazed when they walked through the hallways and found the other wing filled also as people came from all corners of the county and many came from surrounding counties.

People were so consistently enthusiastic, not an unfavorable comment being heard anywhere, that the vets hired L. D. Harris and his orchestra for a repeat performance Aug. 23. If any changes are made for the dance coming up in three weeks, it will be only to add entertainment if it can be found.

In the meantime the veterans organizations took in quite a bit of money on the dance, but were shocked when Finance Officer Bill Windrow stuck the government's tax bill in with the expenses. The healthy bite of Uncle Sam lowered the net profits to slightly over $200.

A Statement To Our Customers About Resale

PRICES of PRODUCTS

Built by International Harvester Company

Here at Harvester we are concerned over the fact that a growing number of our products are appearing on the resale market at greatly inflated

As manufacturers, we try to produce at the lowest possible cost. We cannot set the prices at which our products-tractors, motor trucks, farm implements, refrigeration, and industrial power equipment-are sold. We can and do suggest list prices which the great majority of our dealers adopt as their retail prices.

$20,000,000 Price Reduction

Our basic price policy was publicly stated in March, 1947, when we announced price reductions at the rate of approximately $20,000,000 per year on our products. At that time, Fowler McCormick, Chairman of the Board, said: "ANY PRICE IS TOO HIGH IF IT CAN BE RE-DUCED."

Practically all of our dealers cooperated with this policy and passed on the savings to their customers.

The objective of the price reductions was to make it possible for customers to buy our products, which they need so badly, at lower prices. Naturally, this purpose is defeated when our products are sold by anybody at inflated prices.

IH Production at All-Time Peak

Inflated prices are caused by the difference between supply and demand. To increase supply, we now have the greatest number of employes in history on our payrolls-almost 90,000 in the United States, as against about 69,000 prewar. Large new plants are getting into production in Louisville, Evansville, and Melrose Park. A fourth will soon be in operation in Memphis. The men and women now employed are turning out the greatest quantities of IH products of all kinds that we have ever made. These are also the finest products we have ever made, and recognition of that fact is an important contributing factor to the demand for them.

Distribution to Dealers

But even record-breaking production is not sufficient to give your dealer-and other IH dealers-enough products to meet today's demand. We have tried to make the fairest possible geographical allocation of our products so that every dealer would get a fair share, and we know that dealers, in most cases, have tried earnestly to make the fairest possible distribution to their customers.

But we also know that many of our products-far too many -are being resold at inflated prices. The public criticism and resentment of these resales are of real concern wus, as we know they must be to our dealers, because such reactions endanger the good will of both the dealer and the Company in any community.

Distribution to Customers

Experience shows that many IH new products are being resold by users who decide they can continue to make out with their old equipment after they have had an inflated offer for their new equipment. To eliminate this, many dealers are taking measures to be sure that equipment purchased is for their customers' own use and is not to be resold.

Nearly all IH dealers, we believe, are now using the basis of PRESENT NEED as their primary guide for the sale of scarce products. The customer whose need is real and urgent is not likely to resell.

What Price Should You Pay?

While it may take a little more time to get delivery, we urge our customers to consider all of the factors mentioned here, before paying more than the list price for any IH product. Any IH dealer or branch can furnish the suggested list price for any IH product.

We know that the overwhelming majority of IH dealers are as much opposed to inflated prices as we are. In the public interest, we have already asked their cooperation -and are now asking the cooperation of customers-is correcting this similation.

In short, the present D'Hanis clusters around the railway stattion, a normal and thriving American village on a modern highway, pursuing its American way of liv ing, with nearby Fort Lincoln and Old D'Hanis offering color and historical significance. The first necessity of the pioneer — the production of food — having been satisfied, other pursuits began to spring up, so that today there are mercantile, mechanical, banking, brick-making, and other busi-nesses, while stock-farming remains the chief occupation.

Although the old Alsation flavor may be dimly perceptible after a hundred years, yet wholehearted participation in the activities of their country, including five wars, has helped to make D'Hanis thor-

"Eagle-Eye Koch" Wins Rifle Meet

Charles Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs Robert Koch of Hondo, was pride of his company recently in rifle shooting, according to a clipping from an army newspaper in Korea sent home last week.

The clipping reads as follows: "Sixty-two "C" Company men bet on their ability with the M-1 last week, backing their self-confidence with a dollar bill.

High man in the target-punching contest was Charles Koch, whose re bel guided rifle gave him 186, good in anyone's scorebook. Koch didn't get around to the chit-sheet in time to become one of the sixty-two, an versight, he explain l was shoot ing for the honor of Texas, not for money." A pair of jump boots, the company's token of pride in its best marksman, may make his loss seem Koch has been in the army a year and has been in Korea since January.

HELP BUILD AMERICA'S AIR POWER

on AIR FORCE DAY, AUGUST 1ST

No one today questions the fact that the whole future of the United States may rest in the very clouds over your head. And the new, reorganized Air Forces give thousands of eligible young men an opportunity to take an active part in building America's air power . . . on the ground as well as in the sky.

You may, for example, enlist in the Air Forces for three years. If you have a specialty which will qualify you, you may also be able to enlist in a grade at higher pay.

If you have had Air Forces experience, you may join the Air Reserve and continue your military aviation training outside of 3 Or, you may join the Air National Guard and perhaps become eligible for advanced technical training at special Air National Guard schools.

On Air Force Day, make a point of finding out everything about your Air Forces - especially the new Aviation Career Plan described below. Full details can be obtained at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

NOW-THE WORLD'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR A CAREER IN AVIATION

Today the Army Air Forces offer high school graduates an unprecedented opportunity to get the finest aviation schooling on earth - and select your school or course before you enlist.

The AAF Career Plan is unlike anything ever offered before. It permits selected high school graduates to apply and qualify for AAF specialized courses of their own choice. Simply go to your U. S. Army Recruiting Station, advise the Recruiting Officer the kind of aviation training you want and he will provide you with an application blank and a complete list of available courses.

. When you are selected to attend the course of your choice, you enlist in the Army Air Forces for 3, 4 or 5 years. After your basic training period you are guaranteed the education you have selected to make you a specialist in the type of work you want.

Get a list of all the schools and courses open to you under the AAF Aviation Career Plan at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

MARKS THE SPOT!

Yes X marks the spot where more than 2,000 people died and over 70,000 were injured last year when automobile drivers challenged the iron horses of the rails—and lost.

When you approach a railroad crossing you are entering the railroad's right-of-way. To save you from harm, gates are lowered or automatic signalling devices, bells and blinking lights warn of approaching trains. The engineer blows a warning blast, rings his bell. That's the most the railroad can do. The rest is up to you.

The Stop—Look—and Listen sign means what it says. Stop look both ways—and always listen. If a train is just clearing the crossing, wait—don't hurry across, there may be a hidden train coming from the opposite direction. And when you do cross, keep going. Don't shift gears on the tracks, you may stall.

Take the few extra seconds needed to assure?a safe icrossing. Don't let X mark the spot where you failed to be careful.

COME women take their happiness in their two hands, and strangle it. They take a mallet to it and smash it. And then they turn around and innocently demand: "Why do you suppose George and I are not making a go of it? What on earth is the matter with him?"

"With him"-mind you. Never "with me." Women who in other ways have plenty of common sense, women who can keep house, raise children, play bridge and make triends, yet who are extraordinarily dense about some of the fundamentals of creating and maintaining a good marriage.

But I've rarely come across anyone as blind as Helma Wilson!

Helma is 33. She married, seven years ago, a good strong steady but perhaps not scintillating man named Manny. They had about a year of real happiness together, then Manny went off with the marines. Helma's father died at about this time and she moved in with her mother. The mother, incidentally, had never liked Manny, she feels that he is a rough, rather uncultivated type, "not our sort, not a gentleman," she says.

Since Manny came home a year ago, things have been going badly in the Wilson house. Helma writes me that her mother and husband are always quarreling. They differ politically. Her mother hates tobacco smoke and Manny is always smoking. What is more serious, the old lady, whose daughter describes her as nervous and half-sick, objects to any evidences of affection between husband and wife. Helma went once to sit in her husband's lap, and her mother made such a scene that she has not done it since. Any talk of a baby also drives Mama wild. Helma, she says angrily, has a fine job, and a baby would force her to resign it.

The 'Other Woman.'

Now Manny has done the unforgiveable thing. He is deeply attracted to a pretty young married woman at the office. He goes to her home, and the husband and he play gin rummy, and the wife cooks up delightful little suppers. He is always there. Helma's mother is sure that he and the wife are carrying on a secret affair. Helma is heartbroken, for she evidently loves her rough, big, affectionate husbandand yet, how can she be mean to Mama? She has decided upon a

EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN

Declaring that "fair - minded Americans have long deplored the existence of wage differentials based on sex in American industry," Senators Pepper (Dem., Fla.) and Morse (Rep., Ore.) have introduced the "equal pay bill of 1947."

Discriminatory wage practices against women, the sponsoring senators said in a joint statement, "fly in the face of demands of ordinary justice, depress wages and living standards for all employees, both men and women."

Cold War'

Best description of what's going on in Europe today was given by statesman Bernie Baruch when he said we are in a "cold (Actually Baruch gives credit to ghost-writer Herbert Bayard Swope for coining the phrase.)

What the Swope-Baruch term meant, of course, was that we are in a war of nerves, politics and labor movements. If the U.S. can woo and win certain political groups in France and Italy, it can keep western Europe from going Communist. If, on the other hand, Russia can woo and win them, Europe definitely will go Communist.

During the war, the Office of Strategic Services spent millions smuggling U. S. labor leaders behind enemy lines to make contacts with German, Italian, Austrian, French, Norwegian labor leaders, thus undermining Axis politics and indus-In today's cold war the same thing is even more necessary-but with not one cent being spent on it,

In contrast, the Russians have agents in U. S. factories, in U. S. labor unions, even some in U. S. government offices.

And to get money from congress so we won't have to sweat out this cold war with our mouth gagged and one arm tied behind our back, General Marshall literally has to get down on his knees before congress.

Although the shrewd British are pulling almost everything out of Greece for "economy" reasons, they aren't reducing their propaganda operations there.

Gas Shortage

Two-fisted Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine smells a rat regarding the Midwest oil shortage.

Brewster, who is one of the keenest probers in the senate and who inherited Harry Truman's old committee, has been conducting a thorough investigation of the Arabian oil situation and suspects that the so-called oil shortage, which has prompted some oil companies to reinstate gasoline rationing, is purely Brewster has reason to believe that the big oil companies have whipped up the oil shortage story solely for the purpose of convincing Americans that oil must be imported from the Middle East.

The big oil companies, he finds, plan to bring in half a million tons of Arabian oil this summer, just to convince the American public of the urgency for spending hundreds of millions of dollars to protect American oil interests in the Middle East.

Veterans Loan Battle

Not many realize it, but when congress extended the life of the Reconstruction Finance corporation before the June 30 deadline, it left out an important power affecting veterans-the authority to buy up veterans' loans. This will seriously reduce the ability of the homeless veteran to finance new housing, since from now on the government no longer can guarantee the banks on veterans' loans 100 per cent.

There was a tough closed-door battle between house and senate conferees before this important provision was finally dropped.

Chief defenders of veterans' loans were Alabama's sincere John Sparkman and South Carolina's handsome Burnet Maybank. They were supported by three house Democrats-Paul Brown of Georgia, Brent Spence of Kentucky and Wright Patman of Texas. But the house Republicans, rallied by stubborn Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, sometimes called the bankers' friend, stood firm against it.

Republicans on the senate side were more friendly to the veterans, offered several compromises to limit the aggregate total of loans and provide for screening them. But bankerminded Wolcott would not back

Before the final vote, the conferees separated into private huddles. The Republican senators-Douglass Buck of Delaware, Homer Capehart of Indiana and Ralph Flanders of Vermont-voted to yield to the house. Democrats Sparkman and Maybank, finally agreed that if they held out there would be no RFC at all, promised to sign their names to the report. Among the house conferees, Wolcott rode roughshod over the weaker objections of Democrats Brown, Spence and Patman.

Revamping Courts-Martial

G.I.s will now get a better break on courts-martial—if the plan of a house subcommittee goes through.

Working behind closed doors, the subcommittee patched together a bill that will require no less than one-third enlisted men to sit on military courts which try fellow G.I.s if the defendant requests it. A twothirds majority is necessary before punishment can be handed down. The bill also will remove the judge advocate's section, the army's arm of justice, from the regular chain of command. However, the subcommittee hasn't taken up navy justice, recently the cause of many gripes because of the secret Little court-martiel.

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, tregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, awelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or two frequent urination.

Follow This Chart for Canning (See recipes below.)

Canning Queries

Pressure cookers and other canning equipment will be working overtime to take care of garden produce this year, and those of you who have canned foods undoubtedly know that it's a big task, but not a thankless one when it comes to next winter's eating.

There's no other food task so gratifying as canning, for once you are finished, you have loaded shelves to look at. In order to avoid canning mistakes and failures, check over these points.

First, garden-fresh, sound ripe vegetables are the only kind worth canning. Unsound produce does not improve during the canning process, and it's a waste of time, money and food to put stale vegetables

Select all vegetables as carefully for canning as you would for your most finicky guest, and you'll be a long way toward success. Tender peas, small beets, plump, shiny corn, crisp and meaty beans, etc. all will give satisfactory results because they are prime produce to begin with.

Every vegetable should be washed thoroughly before the skin b cut or broken. Why? Because some of them have dirt and fuzz that is difficult to remove once it becomes mixed with the juicy content.

Pre-cooking and hot packing gives best results, as this method shrinks the vegetables and gives a better looking pack as well as less shrinkage in the jar.

Use Pressure Cooker

Some women can can consistently and successfully by processing vegetables in a hot water bath. Either they are very careful workers or just plain lucky. However, foolproof results are best obtained by using a steam pressure cooker. It is possible to bring food to a higher temperature in this way and kill harmful bacteria, thus avoiding spoilage.

Canning also may be done in much less time with a pressure cooker, and there is less opportunity to lose food values in this way. Fortunately, the equipment is now available, or in many communities it is obtainable on a communal basis at a canning center or such.

Boil Before Serving One of the basic rules for home-canned vegetables is to boil the canned vegetable 10 to 15 minutes before tasting or using. Never taste a vegetable which you may suspect is spoiled. If you are certain of spoilage, discard

it; if not sure, cook it first and then taste.

This boiling is best done in an open saucepan. The rule applies to all vegetables except tomatoes and red pimientoes, which are acid vegetables and hence in a somewhat

LYNN SAYS: Glamorize Foods Before Serving

For both fruit and vegetable salads you may use the prongs of the fork for fluting such things as cucumbers and bananas.

Use vegetables prepared in molds vegetable cutters and use these to make vegetable platters more attractive. Carrots, peas and spinach are nice to look at when served in a ring mold. Use a contrasting colored vegetable in the center of different class from non-acid vegetables such as peas, beans, corn, Some questions always come up concerning particular vegetables during canning time. Typical queries are these, and here are the answers: What causes cloudiness in canned peas? This may be caused by insufficient cooking or some mineral in the water used for canning. Proper pre-cooking or soft, distilled water eliminates the cloudiness. How high shall I pack vegetables?

Pack them to within 1/2 inch of the top of the jar, except peas, lima beans and corn, which are packed to within one inch of the top to allow for extra expansion.

What causes corn to turn brown in the can? Most often this is due to a high temperature used during canning, which carmelizes the corn. Sometimes will cause it.

turn white? This may be due to certain varieties or to too old beets.

Use the very dark red kind, and see that they are young and freshly gathered. Why do vegetables fall apart when home canned? This is due to overprocessing or overcooking in pressure cooker or water bath. Watch the time and check with timetable to avoid this error. Shall I overprocess or underproc-ess? Neither is good, but underprocessing probably will result in spoilage while overcooking will give you wilted looking goods that do not hold their shape.

How much shall I can at one time? Unless you have help for preparing the vegetables, it is best to do it in several small batches so vegetables do not spoil. If you can get the produce from garden to kettle-or jar-within two hours you are working according to the best rule. Much depends upon your own speed and ability.

How much salt should be used? Season according to taste or not at all. Most people are satisfied if one teaspoon of salt to each quart of vegetable is added as a last measure to the jar before it is closed.

Should jar tops be wiped before cover is placed on jar? Yes, this is essential to remove any bits of vegetable, water or salt which might prevent a perfect meal.

What kind of covers should I use? There are a number of good varieties available, and each should be used according to the manufacturer's directions. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Ring black or green olives around the sides of a meat salad bowl to make it look attractive. Never overcook food if you want it to look nice on the platter. Have it crisp looking even if cooked. If vegetables lack appeal for the children, invest in a set of fancy for a change to add interest. Use your gayest mats or linens when serving out on the porch or lawn. Pottery and heavy goblets are ideal for service here

NEWS By Paul Mallon

No Recession in Sight

WASHINGTON .- The "mourning doves" are booing current developments and predicting a depression for the last half of this year and the first half of 1948. A contraction of spending coupled with a union campaign against the new labor reform law will hinder both the distribution of goods and their production, say those who always like the bemoaning side of every argument. Continuance of oppressive wartime taxes, they add, will hold down the acceleration of money circulation and profits as well. Our obligations for foreign aid will squeeze us tighter yet, they conclude. The pessimists thus are nearly monopolizing the business prediction news with doleful notes.

These hasty surface calculations should not prove true. Fundamental underlying factors in all the situations are working against these obvious currents.

While the union leaders are loudly threatening political holocausts. they actually are making two year contracts to continue the existing wage-price level. The New York area heavy construction industry signed a 21/2 year contract freezing wages and working conditions a few weeks back. This follows the Bellwether agreements in motors, steel and electrical industries which freeze the status quo for the next two years. These agreements were followed by warnings of top union officials like Phil Murray against strikes during the contract period.

UNIONS WANT STABILITY

So while the unions are belligerent in the political field, they are seeking stability at this current economic level in the working field. While they do not mind fighting, they do not intend to lose much work doing it this time-apparently.

While corporation officials are issuing hesitant statements or mostly saying nothing, they are quite obviously making business commitments to see if they cannot make a profit at this level. Nowhere do I see or hear genuine commercial discouragement. As one national corporation executive says: "We are not saying anything because we believe we are entering an untried experimental economic era in which good management may be able to make good money. Statements mean nothing anyway. We are trying."

Wariness in consumer buying may prove to be the major problem rather than union politics. Some metropolitan summ vations are off 25 per cent from last year. Many people are deliberately holding on to their old cars, presumably awaiting evidence that both the management and unions have settled down to serious production business. The sellers' market is coming to an end. Selling no doubt will become the most serious future problem. (The various government and other statistics on national income, for instance those mentioned by Mr. Truman in his tax veto, are not conclusive because the value of dollars has diminished incalculably.)

FIRM STOCK MARKET SEEN An unattached financial man, who made a private investigation of the stock market for the administration, reported it was not likely to do anything sensational before Labor Day. He thought fluctuations would tend toward the up-side gradually, but would depend on the prospects for profits in the various corporations.

Nor is there the slightest symptom of depression in the farm situation. A special survey was made for one of the national trade organizations by its agricultural bureau, and this report predicted farm prices would remain strong and might increase slightly. Farm purchasing power, it added, would be high for the rest of this year.

Since January, the quieter and better business prophets (those not swinging axes for either commercial cutting or grinding) have been saying that as soon as the Republican program was enacted, things would be better. A substantial part of the program failed when Mr. Truman blocked tax reduction. These prophets now say the lack of this added public purchasing power should make little immediate difference and may be remedied next year. They would like to use buckshot on the popular "mourning doves."

GOP Foreign Aid Plan

The Vandenberg suggestion on foreign trade and aid was a softvoiced and indirect warning that the Republicans are not going to let the Democratic administration run away with the problem. The Republicans are somewhat sensitive on the subject of isolationism. They do not like to be suspected of such, or have their moves classified as such, even unjustly. Hence the Vandenberg statement was woven with silken words which may have made it appear as a me-too endorsement of Mr. Truman's state department planning commission

Cold facts that represent the annual toll of traffic accidents on our streets and highways,

Those who consider the implications of these tragic figures are impressed by them and at the same time are appalled by the proof that a dreadful plague has settled over the nation. For our annual traffic accident rate is indeed a plague. It sweeps over the country every day and leaves in its wake twisted, limbs, bodies or painfully mangled limbs.

Translated into terms of grief, physical and mental suffering, frustrated hopes and economic loss, this ravaging plague overwhelms the mind. Just as cancer and infantile paralysis can snatch children from their families, so can the unsafe driver behind the wheel of a powerful automobile. Just as disease can and does take fathers and mothers away, leaving children without protection and wards of the state. so can the traffic accident.

Yet, people who shudder at the mention of caneer, heart disease or any other sickness continue to take needless risks while driving. People who cannot bear the sight of an injured kitten at the same time carelessly walk in front of vehicles at risk of their

Remember a place called Hiroshima?

It was two years ago Wednesday of this week that the atomic age was ushered in with the dropping of the first atomic bomb on that Japanese city.

To all the people in the world except a small group of our own countrymen it was like the Buck Rogers era smashing in on us. As it turned out, we found that when the sensationalism wore off it wasn't as bad as it was cracked up to be. We know now that our first atomic bomb was primitive. What has been developed since then and what will be developed from it in the future is what we have to worry about.

Worry? Next Thursday will be the anniversary of V-J day, although it didn't become official til Sept. 2. Wasn't that war to make a democratic world? Wasn't if another war to end all wars?

Then why are all the people of all the world worry-
